

CHIAROSCURO CHRONICLES: ELEGY OF THE FADED GARDEN

POSTCARDS AND LETTER /
P PHYAUNG

Within the frames of my photography series, I've portrayed the intimate story of my life journey. It's a narrative that unfolds in shades of yellow and black, serving as a visual reminder of the absence of green and vitality in my life. Each image whispers the story of my unhappiness, of a life once lush and now dried, barren of the freshness that once colored my days. Infused with zen-like aesthetics, I unfold my narrative, exploring the profound connection between the melancholic hues of yellow and the somber depths of black. This series is more than imagery; it embodies a candid and self-reflective conversation, extending an open invitation to traverse the barren landscapes of my emotions and uncover the hidden beauty amidst desolation.
